chronicle race as we have come to understand it is a fiction but racism as we have come to live it is a fact the point here is not to impose a new racial hierarchy but to remove an existing one after centuries of waiting for white majorities to overturn white supremacy it seems to me that it has fallen to black people to do it themselves acclaimed columnist and author charles blow never wanted to write a race book but as violence against black people both physical and psychological seemed only to increase in recent years culminating in the historic pandemic and protests of the summer of 2020 he felt compelled to write a new story for black americans he envisioned a succinct counterintuitive and impassioned corrective to the myths that have for too long governed our thinking about race and geography in america drawing on both political observations and personal experience as a black son of the south charles set out to offer a call to action by which black people can finally achieve equality on their own terms so what will it take to make lasting change when small steps have so frequently failed it's going to take an unprecedented shift in power the devil you know is a the american union thoughtful people from every side of the political spectrum are beginning to realize that the only check to the tyranny insecurity and spirit numbing mass culture that continued centralization would bring is to seriously consider breaking the american empire up into alternative unions and or smaller polities professor naylor is part of this debate and has made a compelling we should all be feminists comes a powerful new statement about feminism today written as a letter to a friend populism and authoritarian populist parties have surged in the 21st century in the united states donald trump appears to have become the poster president for the surge david m ricci in this call to arms thinks trump is symptomatic of the changes that have caused a crisis among americans namely mass economic and creative destruction automation outsourcing deindustrialization globalization privatization financialization digitalization and the rise of temporary jobs all breeding resentment rather than dwelling on symptoms ricci focuses on the root of our nation s problems thus creative destruction aiming at perpetual economic growth encouraged by neoliberalism creates the economic inequality that fuels resentment and leads to increased populism ricci urges political scientists to highlight this destruction meaningfully and substantively to use empirical realism to put human beings back into politics ricci s sensible argument conveys a sense of political urgency grappling with real world problems and working to transform abstract speculations into tangible useful tools the result is a passionate book important not only to political scientists but to anyone who cares about public life from acclaimed and award winning financial adviser ric edelman comes a modern day fable in the spirit of the ant and the grasshopper that teaches kids and their parents the value of spending money saving for the future and giving to charity financial habits form early children learn by observing a parent s behavior and through their own experiences that s why it s important to make sure your children are treating money the right way from allowances and birthday money to cash they ll one day earn babysitting or mowing lawns the squirrel manifesto provides a platform to set your children on the path to a lifetime of fiscal responsibility just as a squirrel gathers nuts to prepare for the winter eating some now and storing some for later kids can learn the value of money by spending some of their allowance now and saving the rest for later using animals as examples why architecture matters and how to make it matter more fit is a book about architecture and society that seeks to fundamentally change how architects and the public think about the task of design distinguished architect and urbanist robert geddes argues that buildings landscapes and cities should be designed to fit fit the purpose fit the place fit future possibilities fit replaces old paradigms such as form follows function and less is more by recognizing that the relationship between architecture and society is a true dialogue dynamic complex and if carried out with knowledge and skill richly rewarding with a tip of the hat to john dewey fit explores architecture as we experience it geddes starts with questions why do we design where we live and work why do we not just live in nature or in chaos why does society care about architecture why does it really matter fit answers these questions through a fresh examination of the basic purposes and elements of architecture beginning in nature combining function and expression and leaving a legacy of form lively charming and gently persuasive the book shows brilliant examples of fit from thomas jefferson s university of virginia and louis kahn s exeter library to contemporary triumphs such as the apple store on new york s fifth avenue chicago s millennium park and seattle s pike place fit is a book for everyone because we all live in constructions buildings landscapes and increasingly cities it provokes architects and planners humanists and scientists civic leaders and citizens to reconsider what is at stake in architecture and why it delights us mark thomas has been touring the uk for months getting audiences to come up with policies aimed at sorting out the country s political chaos and taking back the power for the people sick to death of bailing out bankers and subsidizing mps homes the audience vote on the best policy of the night to be included in the brand new people s manifesto from the inspiring to the downright hilarious you ll wonder why these fantastic ideas aren't part of their constitution already for example all politicians will be forced to wear the names and logos of the companies sponsoring them or with whom they have financial links anyone who supports id cards is banned from having curtains all models have to be picked at random from the electoral register anyone found guilty of homophobic hate crime has to serve their sentence in drag and ceos convicted of fraud will be made to dress as pirates in whatever job they get in the future the people's manifesto will outline 50 policies of the manifesto shouted out in bold type on a page to themselves with mark's commentary opposite mark has even road tested some of them like hosting a party in an mp's second home which clearly belongs to the taxpayer and getting university boffins to work out a way of sat testing mps to rank them by value and mark's guerrilla antics won't end there power to the people is really happening publisher description from bangkok to bogotá a hilarious
